In the Family Court sitting at East Midlands Regional Divorce Centre

21 October 2017

Case number: DIV 1234 5678

Applicant

Zoe Elizabeth Dante

Respondent

John James Dante

Refusal order

The court is not yet satisfied that the applicant is entitled to a decree of divorce. The application will need to be amended and resubmitted for the following reasons:

“The applicant has relied on unreasonable behaviour for the irretrievable breakdown of their marriage. However, while the statement they have provided appears to suggest the respondent’s behaviour to be unreasonable, it does not provide specific examples.

“I cannot approve this divorce based on this statement. You will need to provide 5 specific behaviour examples, or rely on a different fact.”

The applicant must pay a £95 amendment fee as the application will be reissued and sent back to the respondent. The court will need their response to the amended application before these divorce proceedings can continue.
